

Pastoral Update—November 6, 2020

“Since we have such a hope, we are very bold.” 2 Corinthians 3:12

2020 is truly an epic time in history never before seen. This convergence of the pandemic, the election and political unrest, and calls for social justice is an opportunity for us to be very bold in giving voice to faith, hope, and love.

Our voices need to be heard boldly proclaiming the hope we have in Christ. We need to be bold in promoting peace and unity. We must be bold in joining in the quest for justice and equality for all people. Our hope makes us bold in our mission of love to the world.

7 things that are giving me hope right now:

1. The sun is shining, the birds are singing, and the sun will rise tomorrow.
2. We are all learning that we are very resilient.
3. I am gaining unexpected, bonus time with my husband and children.
4. Desert Cross is innovating new ways of worship and mission.
5. We have a new Associate Pastor on the way in January 2021.
6. Pastor Doris completed her treatments and is ready to preach again soon!
7. God is with us and for us in Christ.

What is giving you hope?

Check out our November “Hope” Playlists to be encouraged and very bold in sharing the hope you have in Christ!
